

Mathematics

---

The Math Department PhD program is intended for students with a solid background in undergraduate mathematics and a strong interest in research. Most of our students intend to pursue academic careers or find other kinds of positions, for example in industry or finance.

We aim to provide a supportive environment for teaching, learning, and creating mathematics. The relatively small size (about 40+ graduate students and 25+ faculty and postdocs) allows for close contact with faculty and a sense of community. The program is flexible enough to accommodate a range of levels of preparation. More than 85% of students admitted receive their PhD.

For more information on admission and program requirements, please visit the following website:

<https://www.brown.edu/academics/math/graduate> (<https://www.brown.edu/academics/math/graduate/>)