Curricular Programs

Diverse Perspectives in Liberal Learning

Brown’s open curriculum challenges students to open their perspective on the world by embracing new experiences, new ways of thinking, and new people. One way students can address this expectation is through challenging coursework. Diverse Perspectives in Liberal Learning courses offer students the means not only to understand the complex dynamics of social inequity, exclusion, and difference but also to do something with what they learn.

Through content, methodology, or pedagogy, DPLL courses seek to:

• Expose and critique the diverse historical and cultural forces that shape the construction of knowledge in all disciplines;
• Teach the arts of critical reflection: questioning thoughtfully, listening openly, and speaking cogently about differing points of view;
• Develop responsible citizens by examining the ways that power and privilege affect human lives and providing pathways to meaningful change.

Some DPLL courses may, through their content, focus on questions of race, nationality, ethnicity, sexuality, religion, gender, age, disability, or socio-economic status. Others may employ creative methods to investigate how knowledge is constructed and received in different contexts. Still others may feature community-based activities, encouraging students to become agents of change both locally and globally.

A complete list of each semester’s DPLL courses may be viewed in the Brown Course Search by choosing “Diverse Perspectives in LL” in the Curricular Programs field.

First Year Seminars

First-year seminars ensure close contact between first-year students and faculty members while simultaneously offering a rigorous introduction to the concepts and methods of a particular subject area or department. Seminars have few if any prerequisites and are offered in all areas of the curriculum, from anthropology to physics to literary arts. Students receive regular feedback on the work they produce for the seminars, and seminar faculty often serve as informal mentors for their students long after the class has ended.

A complete list of each semester’s seminars may be viewed in the Brown Course Search by choosing “First-Year Seminar” in the Curricular Programs field. Registration for first-year seminars takes place during the summer prior to students’ matriculation to Brown. Depending on availability, first-year students may also add seminars to their course schedules during pre-registration and shopping periods.

Liberal Learning

The Liberal Learning course list was created to assist students in planning a course of study consistent with the goals of a liberal education. These courses, which are an established part of the Brown curriculum, emphasize synthesis rather than survey and focus on methods, concepts, and values. Reflecting Brown’s conviction that liberal education requires active student involvement, Liberal Learning courses entail extensive student participation through papers, projects, reports, and class discussion.

A complete list of each semester’s LILE courses may be viewed in the Brown Course Search by choosing “Liberal Learning” in the Curricular Programs field.

Sophomore Seminars

Sophomore seminars bring together ideas, perspectives, and approaches that are not normally seen side by side in a given course or program. Embracing a range of intellectual perspectives, many of the seminars focus specifically on issues of social justice, identity, and difference. Limited to twenty students each, the seminars help students develop the skills, knowledge, and values they need to progress toward more advanced learning in a discipline or field.

A complete list of each semester’s SOPH seminars may be viewed in the Brown Course Search by choosing “Sophomore Seminar” in the Curricular Programs field.

Writing-Designated Courses

Brown students are expected to work on writing in their general studies and in the concentration. Students may begin to fulfill this expectation by taking at least one course that carries the WRIT designation. WRIT courses are offered across the curriculum and help students develop the ability to write well in styles appropriate to different academic disciplines.

A complete list of each semester’s WRIT courses may be viewed in the Brown Course Search by choosing “Writing-Designated Courses” in the Curricular Programs field.
