

Literary Arts

The Graduate Program in Literary Arts offers a Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A) degree with courses in fiction, poetry and digital/cross-disciplinary practices.

For more information on admission and program requirements, please visit the following website:

<http://www.brown.edu/academics/gradschool/programs/literary-arts> (<http://www.brown.edu/academics/gradschool/programs/literary-arts/>)

You are required to complete nine courses to earn an MFA: two courses in semesters 1 and 4 of study; and 2.5 courses in semesters 2 and 3 of study. In semesters 1, 2 & 3, you are expected to take the graduate workshop in your track (or if in the digital/cross-disciplinary track, a relevant workshop agreed upon by you and the Director of Graduate Studies); and in semester 4, you are expected to complete the thesis independent study. In semesters 2 & 3, you are expected to take the half-credit course offered in pedagogy training. In all four semesters, you are expected to take one elective.

Which may be found at:

<https://literaryarts.brown.edu/handbook/choosing-courses> (<https://literaryarts.brown.edu/handbook/choosing-courses/>)