International Relations

The objective of the International Relations concentration is to foster creative thinking about pressing global problems and to equip students with the analytic tools, language expertise, and cross-cultural understanding to guide them in that process. To this end, the concentration draws on numerous departments including political science, history, economics, anthropology, sociology, psychology, religious studies, and area studies. The IR concentration is organized around a multidisciplinary core and two sub-themes: security and society, and political economy and society. It has a three-year language requirement that must be linked to the student's selected region of the world. All concentrators are required to undertake a capstone project using research in a second language. Prospective concentrators should visit the IR site (http://watson.brown.edu/ir/requirements/filing) for next steps.

Requirements

The IR concentration requires 14 courses and the equivalent of 3 years of study in a second language. Regardless of track, all IR concentrators must take all five core courses, research methods, regional focus, and capstone courses.
